Case No.: 2:24-cv-07453- FLA-AJR

[PROPOSED] ORDER GRANTING PLAINTIFF'S MOTION FOR EARLY DISCOVERY

19 The Court, having read all papers filed in connection with the Plaintiff's Ex
20 Parte Motion for Early Discovery, having considered the issues raised therein,
21 including the requirements of the Cable Privacy Act, 47 U.S.C. § 551, and being 22 otherwise fully advised, it is hereby ORDERED that the Motion is GRANTED as 23 set forth below.

24 1. Pursuant to Federal Rules 26(d) and 45, PCR Distributing Company
25 ("Plaintiff") is authorized to serve subpoenas on third parties it has identified as 26

1 providing services to Defendants: (1) NameCheap, Inc., (2) Cloudflare, Inc., and (3)
2 Lanoto Solutions Inc. (the “Service Providers”). Through these subpoenas, Plaintiff
3 may demand the production of electronically stored information and other
4 documents and information that will reasonably lead to the discovery of Defendants’
5 identities and locations. This includes but is not limited to names, addresses, login
6 information, billing and transaction records, account information, server logs and IP
7 addresses, email exchanges, and IP login information related to the accounts for the 8 NHentai.net domain name.

9 2. Because Plaintiff has not yet identified or located the Defendants in this 10 case, it may serve subpoenas pursuant to this Order without complying with the 11 requirement of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45(b)(1) that it provide notice to 12 Defendants before serving the subpoenas.

13 3. The Court has considered the requirements of the Cable Privacy Act
14 (47 U.S.C. § 551) and determined that this Order complies with the Act’s
15 requirements.

16 4. Plaintiff shall use the information obtained through the discovery set
17 out above only to prosecute the claims in its Complaint and for no other purpose.
